

Informal Sector Enterprise, Entrepreneurship & Local Economic Development

March 4, 2019 – April 12, 2019

Rationale

The predominance of an informal economy is seen as a positive entry point to address the challenges of population growth and concentration in rural areas and cities. The informal economy enables wealth to be shared by all. The demographic transition, envisaged in the ensuing years means that LED strategies will have to address the economic reality of large informal and smaller formal economies. Supporting the development of the informal sector as well as the transition of actors from the informal to the formal sector is neither well understood, nor is there significant practice upon which to build. There is a general consensus that the strategic planning effort should be led by local government, although project implementation is necessarily undertaken by public, private and community actors and that the institutionalization of LED needs to be carefully calibrated to both national and local environments and conditions.

Enabling flow of investment and stimulating entrepreneurship is one of the important pillars of most local and regional development strategies.
