EDII, corporates to create 10K women-led green biz

The Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India (EDII) on Friday announced it will join hands with corporates to create 10,000 women-led green businesses across 100 districts in the country in 1,000 days. EDII Director General Sunil Shukla said the institute has been successfully offering entrepreneurship and skill development training to artisans, weavers, women startup founders and the unemployed, leading to sustainable livelihood options for them.
