The Startup Village Entrepreneurship Programme (SVEP) is a sub-scheme under the National Rural Livelihoods Mission (NRLM), Ministry of Rural Development, Government of India. SVEP aims to build an ecosystem that creates, nurtures, and sustains rural entrepreneurs, thus bringing the rural poor out of poverty.
From building a robust association with 15 SRLMS under SVEP to marking its footprints as a sustained entrepreneurship ecosystem, EDII has achieved satisfying growth over rural entrepreneurship. Leveraging upon the cadre of community built in this ecosystem, EDII has started contributing to other non-farm interventions, particularly in the artisanal cluster and micro-enterprise development programme. In this issue, we bring to attention the commencement of its programmatic activities, an area that concerns all, be it the technical support agencies, the state governments, the ministry, allied stakeholders, or the targeted beneficiaries. The write-up includes reflections from the recently held Inception Workshop at GLPC, Gujarat, and UMED (MSRLM), Maharashtra, to deliberate upon the action plan for the initial six months under various projects.

EDII, with its competent and trained cadre of CRP-EPs and Mentors, plans to engage them in providing technical support to the formation and operations of the Producer Companies in the artisanal clusters and in conducting training programmes under the NRLM's Micro Entrepreneurs Development Programmes. To gain momentum in this direction, orientation workshops to build understanding and arrive at a concurrent vision of concerned stakeholders are being planned and organized at various locations to roll out the programmes in a synergized and effective manner.

Mr. Rai is 41 years old and lives in the Darjeeling district's Nigalay village of Mirik Block. His journey began by selling ornamental flowers, starting a homestay and a tea boutique. There are five members in his family. His wife, Alina Rai, is a member of Arohan SHG, who encouraged him to start a new venture. Mrs. Rai joined SHG in 2015, and her contribution to social and allied activities was remarkable. The family owns a homestay where tourists are served food and accommodation at negotiable charges. Mr. Rai is also engaged in the floriculture business. At present, they have employed three helpers to look after the trade.

Nonetheless, he was determined to set up a business that could provide a perennial source of income throughout the year. Since tea cultivation is highly practiced in the region, he established a network with the local suppliers of tea leaves and set up a tea boutique. However, due to limitations faced in the business operations, his sales were at most Rs 7000.

While Mrs. Alina's community engagements continued, she kept looking for options to support her husband in the business. Mrs. Alina gradually developed an interest in shaping the family business. She restructured the business based on the learnings from the 'Entrepreneur Development Training Program' under the scheme of the Startup Village Entrepreneurship Program at Mirik Block Resource Center. She started by gaining insight into business operations that played an instrumental role in restructuring the business. After approval of the business plan, the CEF amount of Rs. 30,000 was sanctioned in November 2020. Additionally, she poured in 6000 from her contribution and purchased inventory and a packet-sealing machine.

Instead of procuring tea packets, she insisted on getting loose tea at wholesale prices and decided to sell them with attractive packaging and branding that eventually boosted their sale. Without any delay, repayment was completed within 12 months. In the first six months, their sales recorded remarkable growth. They achieved their break-even in seven months. Their monthly sales from the tea boutique range from Rs. 9,000 to Rs. 10,000. Her wisdom and know-how of things worked out favorably for them. Today, their products are renowned for their refreshing taste and a pleasant aroma.

"Developing entrepreneurial qualities by learning to manage business operations under SVEP has facilitated our business to grow at a greater height. We are thankful for the timely help from the SVEP Team."

Like the water is a dark flower and a fisherman is a bee in the heart of it, Karri Narshi babu is a fisherman who had to return to the waters to find his fortune. Karri Narshi babu was born into a low-income family in Chunchupally village, Mangapet Mandal of Etunagaram. He could not complete his education due to poverty and remained unemployed for several years. Later at the age of 21, he got married. He worked as a daily wage worker to look after his family and earned a meager Rs. 300/day. He got engulfed in the vicious circle of poverty for as long as 15 years. He strived hard for a better living but failed in all his attempts. An altruistic change turned his life around when one fine day, he learned about the SVEP through his wife. Karri Narshi babu’s wife, an SHG member of Sri Rajeshwar SHG, received an orientation about the Startup Village Entrepreneurship Programme through CRP-EP in one of their regular SHG meetings. It evoked a thought in him to break the chain of poverty by becoming an entrepreneur as he had the skill of fishing. The Godavari river was only 2 km from the Chunchupally Village, and the demand for fisheries and marketing them was high. He took to this opportunity and expressed his desire to commence fishing commercially.

After realizing his entrepreneurial potential, Ms. Swapna, the CRP-EP, supported him in preparing the business plan, which was put forth in BRC. After scrutiny, BRC approved an amount of Rs. 50,000. Adding all his savings along with the CEF amount, he purchased a boat. He put his heart and soul into the business, drastically increasing his income. He repaid his loan in a short span and arrived at break-even within the first six months of the fishing business. His average monthly profit is between Rs. 40,000 to 45,000. At present, he can afford a good living for his family.

His business initiatives created opportunities and employment for others in the vicinity. He has employed four people working in the enterprise.

“The Programme has helped us come out of poverty. Having a team of people to support, boosted my confidence in taking the risk of investing all my savings in the venture and reaping profit from it”.
