60% youth have degree but nothing according to market demand: Gujarat Governor

Gandhinagar, April 21 (KNN) Degree does not mean skill and efficiency as 60 per cent youth in India have degree but that does not make them relevant to meet the demands of the market, said Gujarat Governor Acharya Devvrat on the anniversary of Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India on Thursday. said (EDII).

On Thursday, four decades of entrepreneurship education, training, research and institution building were being celebrated in the institute campus.

Speaking on the occasion, the state governor said, “There is a huge contradiction between the degrees offered by universities and colleges and the skills required in the market.”

“But this does not mean that youth are not creative; They can blossom if they are mentored, mentored, trained, and oriented well, they need to align with innovations and technological advancements so that they can deliver solid performance . I am glad that we have institutes like EDII which are supplementing the efforts in this direction through training and motivation. My congratulations to EDII,” he said.

The event was inaugurated by Rakesh Sharma, President- EDII and MD & CEO, IDBI Bank Ltd; Dr. Milind Kamble, EDII Governing Board Member, Chairman, 40-Year Celebrations Committee and Founder President, DICCI; EDII Governing Board Member and former CMD, SIDBI Dr. Shailendra Narayan, EDII Director General Dr. Sunil Shukla and dignitaries from Government, Corporates and Academia.

Commenting on the strong startup ecosystem in India, Rakesh Sharma said, “We are witnessing a growing confidence in entrepreneurship; Students’ desire to break free from the job-seeking mindset, think innovatively and start sustainable startups.

“Year after year, we see an increase in the number of people enrolling for EDII’s PG and other programmes. Other institutes and universities have also started offering courses on entrepreneurship today, and this speaks volumes about EDII’s contribution towards making entrepreneurship a conscious career choice,” he added.

Emphasizing on the importance of inclusive growth, Dr. Milind Kamble said, “Entrepreneurship helps promote inclusive growth which is what India needs. Successful entrepreneurship does not always mean big industries or manufacturing units in towns and cities , it also means opportunities for the people living in India’s villages, the underprivileged, the disabled and women. Only then can a country progress. Entrepreneurship gives people an opportunity to involve themselves in development. Through its interventions, EDII It has been displayed.
